Chapter 255: The Birth of the Divine Police

Not all creatures were born with strength, nor could all rise through levels to match the powerful. In a multiverse teeming with vast and diverse beings, some lived under the oppression of stronger hunters, warlords, or tyrants. Not all power brought righteousness; some wielded their strength to exploit, subjugate, and harm the weak.

Desperate and oppressed, countless beings sought sanctuary and justice. They traveled great distances, flocking to the temples of the Twelve Divine Beings and the strongholds of the Dark Heavenly Soldiers near the Divine Trees. Their pleas for aid were heard, and the Twelve Divine Beings responded with both mercy and resolve.

Formation of the Divine Police

To address the cries of the oppressed, the Twelve Divine Beings established a new joint organization: the Divine Police, an elite force tasked with maintaining peace, delivering justice, and protecting the weak.

1. Purpose:

To ensure that no being, regardless of power, could oppress others without consequences.

To establish universal law and order under the watchful eyes of the Twelve Divine Beings.

To provide hope to the powerless and a deterrent to the unrighteous.

2. Headquarters:

The Divine Police operated from bases located near the Divine Trees and temples of the Twelve Divine Beings.

Each Divine Tree and temple served as a command center, equipped with advanced magical and divine tools for surveillance and enforcement.

3. Joint Forces:

The Dark Heavenly Soldiers, with their unmatched power, served as the backbone of the Divine Police.

Monks, priests, and emissaries of the Twelve Divine Beings provided spiritual guidance, tactical coordination, and logistical support.

Structure and Equipment

The Divine Police were a highly organized and technologically advanced force, equipped to handle any situation, from petty crimes to large-scale conflicts.

1. Operational Teams:

Most units operated in groups, combining the strengths of multiple soldiers and priests.

Some generals, with their unparalleled power, could operate solo, taking on the most dangerous missions.

2. Armada of Justice:

Flying Cop Cars: Vehicles imbued with mythical-level enchantments for speed, maneuverability, and protection.

Each car was equipped with stealth capabilities and magical barriers, making them impervious to most attacks.

Mana-Guns and Mana-Rifles:

These weapons, forged from mythical materials, could suppress even S^{999}-Rank threats.

They emitted non-lethal suppression beams or lethal strikes, depending on the severity of the situation.

Mythical Suppression Tools:

Chains of Binding: Enchanted chains that could restrain even the most powerful beings.

Shackles of Obedience: Devices that nullified hostile intent and magical abilities.

Celestial Cages: Portable containment units for high-risk offenders.

Operations and Influence

1. Enforcing Justice:

The Divine Police actively patrolled the realms, responding to calls for help and intervening in conflicts.

They had the authority to judge and punish wrongdoers, with their decisions backed by the Twelve Divine Beings.

2. Protection and Rebuilding:

Beyond enforcing laws, the Divine Police provided protection to the oppressed, helping rebuild communities destroyed by war or tyranny.

They worked with local civilizations to establish sustainable governance under divine guidance.

3. Deterrence of Crime:

The presence of the Divine Police became a deterrent for evil-doers across the multiverse. Few dared to challenge their authority, knowing the wrath of the Twelve Divine Beings lay behind them.

Impact Across the Multiverse

The creation of the Divine Police brought an era of stability and hope to countless realms. Oppressed beings could live without fear, knowing that justice was only a prayer away.

1. Universal Law:

The Twelve Divine Beings codified a universal system of laws that upheld fairness, equality, and protection for all.

These laws were enforced uniformly, regardless of a being's power or origin.

2. Hope for the Powerless:

For the first time, the powerless had a voice. The Divine Police ensured their cries were heard and their rights protected.

3. Strengthening the Divine Order:

The Divine Police became an extension of the Twelve Divine Beings’ will, strengthening their dominion and reinforcing their role as protectors of all creation.

Thus, the Divine Police stood as a beacon of hope and justice, their flying cop cars soaring through the multiverse to bring peace to the oppressed and ensure that no injustice went unanswered. The era of unchecked tyranny ended, and a new age of divine law and order began.
